AI Researcher Position

BRAIN Platform Team

Dear WorldQuant Hiring Team,

I'm writing to apply for the AI Researcher position. I've led AI initiatives that save 1,500+ hours annually and turned around struggling projects into million-dollar successes. While my background is engineering, I actively invest across American and Indian markets and understand financial fundamentals through hands-on experience.

I bring three things: proven ability to build AI systems that deliver measurable results, experience building technical roadmaps and managing stakeholder buy-in across teams, and operational expertise to make your development processes more efficient. I approach problems systematically, focus on impact over theory, and translate complex technical work into business outcomes.

Sincerely,

Rahul Seth
